

In 2019, the Solomon Islands made a minimal advancement in efforts to eliminate the worst forms of child labor. The Anti-Human Trafficking Advisory Committee was fully established and began meeting quarterly to coordinate the government's anti-human trafficking efforts. Further, the government actively investigated two child sex trafficking cases involving five children. However, children in the Solomon Islands are engaged in the worst forms of child labor, including in commercial sexual exploitation, sometimes as a result of human trafficking. Children also perform dangerous tasks in the harvesting of palm oil fruits. The minimum age for employment does not meet international standards, and the government has not comprehensively identified the hazardous occupations prohibited for children. In addition, education is not compulsory, which increases children's vulnerability to child labor exploitation.

I. PREVALENCE AND SECTORAL DISTRIBUTION OF CHILD LABOR

Children in the Solomon Islands are engaged in the worst forms of child labor, including in commercial sexual exploitation, sometimes as a result of human trafficking. (1-5) Children also perform dangerous tasks in the harvesting of palm oil fruits. Table 1 provides key indicators on children's work and education in the Solomon Islands. Data on some of these key indicators are not available from the sources used in this report.

Table 1. Statistics on Children's Work and Education

Children	Age	Percent
Working (% and population)	5 to 14	Unavailable
Attending School (%)	5 to 14	Unavailable
Combining Work and School (%)	7 to 14	Unavailable
Primary Completion Rate (%)		86.8

Source for primary completion rate: Data from 2018, published by UNESCO Institute for Statistics, 2020. (6)
Data were unavailable from International Labor Organization's analysis, 2020. (7)

Based on a review of available information, Table 2 provides an overview of children's work by sector and activity.

Table 2. Overview of Children's Work by Sector and Activity

Sector/Industry	Activity
Agriculture	Working on plantations, including harvesting palm oil fruits (5)
	Harvesting sea cucumbers, including diving in deep water (3,5)
Industry	Alluvial mining† (5)
	Furniture construction (5)
	Construction on roads and buildings, including making bricks (5)
Services	Domestic work, including working as cooks (3,5)
	Scavenging for cans and metal in garbage dumpsites, streets, and streams (2,5)
	Working in nightclubs, casinos, and motels (3,5)
Categorical Worst Forms of Child Labor‡	Commercial sexual exploitation, sometimes as a result of human trafficking (1-5,8-10)
	Use in illicit activities, including in the cultivation and trafficking of drugs (2,5)
	Forced domestic work and forced work as cooks (3,5,8)

† Determined by national law or regulation as hazardous and, as such, relevant to Article 3(d) of ILO C. 182.

‡ Child labor understood as the worst forms of child labor per se under Article 3(a)–(c) of ILO C. 182.

In the Solomon Islands, the commercial sexual exploitation of both boys and girls is prevalent near logging camps; near or aboard fishing vessels; and at hotels, casinos, and entertainment establishments. (1,4,5,8,11) Children are exposed to toxic pesticides on palm oil plantations while tending to, harvesting, and collecting palm oil fruits. In addition, children—mainly boys—are exposed to extreme water depths and temperatures while diving for sea cucumbers. (3,5) The government provides a nominal amount of funding towards its Fee Free Basic Education Policy for free education. Additional school fees, teacher absenteeism, and transportation limitations make it challenging for some children to access education. (5,12) There are no nationally representative data available on the prevalence and nature of child labor in the Solomon Islands.

II. LEGAL FRAMEWORK FOR CHILD LABOR

The Solomon Islands has ratified some key international conventions concerning child labor (Table 3).

Table 3. Ratification of International Conventions on Child Labor

Convention	Ratification
 ILO C. 138, Minimum Age	✓
ILO C. 182, Worst Forms of Child Labor	✓
 UN CRC	✓
UN CRC Optional Protocol on Armed Conflict
UN CRC Optional Protocol on the Sale of Children, Child Prostitution and Child Pornography
 Palermo Protocol on Trafficking in Persons

The government has established laws and regulations related to child labor (Table 4). However, gaps exist in the Solomon Islands' legal framework to adequately protect children from the worst forms of child labor, including the minimum age for work and the minimum age for hazardous work.

Table 4. Laws and Regulations on Child Labor

Standard	Meets International Standards	Age	Legislation
Minimum Age for Work	No	12	Article 46 of the Labor Act (13)
Minimum Age for Hazardous Work	No
Identification of Hazardous Occupations or Activities Prohibited for Children	No		Articles 47–49 of the Labor Act (13)
Prohibition of Forced Labor	Yes		Article 6 of the Constitution; Articles 251 and 256 of the Penal Code; Part 7 of the Immigration Act (14-16)
Prohibition of Child Trafficking	No		Part 7 of the Immigration Act; Article 145 of the Penal Code (15,16)
Prohibition of Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children	No		Articles 141 and 143–144 of the Penal Code (16)
Prohibition of Using Children in Illicit Activities	No
Minimum Age for Voluntary State Military Recruitment	N/A†
Prohibition of Compulsory Recruitment of Children by (State) Military	N/A†
Prohibition of Military Recruitment by Non-state Armed Groups	No
Compulsory Education Age	No
Free Public Education	No

† No standing military (17)

The minimum age for work is not in compliance with international standards because the Labor Act permits children as young as age 12 to work. (13) While the Labor Code prohibits all children under age 18 from working at night and regulates work in mines and on ships, it does not clearly establish a minimum age for hazardous work or delineate the type of work considered hazardous for all children. In addition, the legal framework does not prohibit dangerous work in scavenging or in agricultural activities for which there is evidence of children being exposed to injuries, extreme temperatures, or chemicals. (13,18,19)

The Penal Code includes heightened penalties if an offense is committed against a child, but has insufficient prohibitions against child trafficking because threats, the use of force, or other forms of coercion are required to be established for the crime of child trafficking. Furthermore, the laws on child commercial sexual exploitation are insufficient, as they do not include prohibiting pornographic performances. (16) Although there are no laws that provide free basic education, there is a policy that sufficiently provides for free basic education. (20)

III. ENFORCEMENT OF LAWS ON CHILD LABOR

The government has established institutional mechanisms for the enforcement of laws and regulations on child labor (Table 5). However, gaps exist within the operations of the Ministry of Commerce, Industry, Labor and Immigration that may hinder adequate enforcement of their child labor laws.

Table 5. Agencies Responsible for Child Labor Law Enforcement

Organization/Agency	Role
Ministry of Commerce, Industry, Labor and Immigration	Enforces child labor laws. (5) Through the Immigration Division, leads efforts to combat human trafficking, including the trafficking of children. (21)
Royal Solomon Islands Police	Enforce criminal laws against the worst forms of child labor. (5) Lead investigations of internal human trafficking cases. (22)
Joint Monitoring and Investigation Team	Monitors and investigates cases of transnational human trafficking, specifically in the logging industry. Comprising representatives from the Immigration Division, the Royal Solomon Islands Police, Customs, and the Forestry Division. (21,23)

While the Government of the Solomon Islands has agencies to enforce child labor laws, research found that the agencies' commitment, coordination, and priorities vary widely depending on their mandates, structural capacity, and budget allocations. (5)

Labor Law Enforcement

Research did not find information on whether labor law enforcement agencies in the Solomon Islands took actions to combat child labor (Table 6).

The Government of the Solomon Islands did not respond to requests for information related to its labor law enforcement efforts for inclusion in this report. Insufficient resources continue to hamper the labor inspectorate's capacity to enforce child labor laws, including a lack of budget transparency and enforcement efforts. (5)

Criminal Law Enforcement

Research did not find information on whether criminal law enforcement agencies in the Solomon Islands took actions to combat child labor (Table 7).

Table 7. Criminal Law Enforcement Efforts Related to Child Labor

Initial Training for New Criminal Investigators	Unknown (18)	Unknown (5)

While the Government of the Solomon Islands did not respond to requests for information related to its criminal law enforcement efforts for inclusion in this report, the government is actively investigating two cases of trafficking for the purpose of child sexual exploitation. (5,11)

IV. COORDINATION OF GOVERNMENT EFFORTS ON CHILD LABOR

The government has established mechanisms to coordinate its efforts to address child labor (Table 8). However, gaps exist that hinder the effective coordination of efforts to address child labor, including efforts to address all forms of child labor.

Table 8. Key Mechanisms to Coordinate Government Efforts on Child Labor

Coordinating Body	Role & Description
Anti-Human Trafficking Advisory Committee (AHTAC)	Coordinates efforts across the government to address human trafficking. (21) Includes the Immigration Division, which acts as secretariat, and representatives from law enforcement agencies, NGOs, and UN agencies. An Executive Officer from the Royal Solomon Islands Police acts as the Committee Chair. (9,19,22) In 2019, the AHTAC was fully established and met quarterly during the reporting period; entities cooperated to coordinate all anti-human trafficking efforts in the Solomon Islands. (11)
National Advisory and Action Committee on Children (NAACC)	Coordinates government and NGOs to address child trafficking and commercial sexual exploitation of children. (24) The committee consists of several ministries, including the Ministry of Women, Youth, Children and Family Affairs; Ministry of Commerce, Industry, Labor and Immigration; and Ministry of Home Affairs. Several NGOs participate, including Save the Children, UNICEF, and the WHO. (19) In 2019, the NAACC was active and met quarterly. (10)

The Government of the Solomon Islands did not respond to requests for information on its coordination efforts to eliminate child labor. (5) Although the National Advisory and Action Committee on Children was established in 2012, and met quarterly in 2019, research was unable to determine whether activities took place during the reporting period to address child trafficking and commercial sexual exploitation of children. (19,25)

V. GOVERNMENT POLICIES ON CHILD LABOR

The government has established policies related to child labor (Table 9). However, policy gaps exist that hinder efforts to address child labor, including covering all worst forms of child labor.

Table 9. Key Policies Related to Child Labor

Policy	Description
National Action Plan on Human Trafficking and People Smuggling (2015–2020)	Establishes a framework for national anti-human trafficking efforts. (26) Raises awareness about commercial sexual exploitation of children and the services available for vulnerable children. The National Action Plan is funded by NGOs and the Government of the Solomon Islands. (9,19,26) Research was unable to determine whether activities were undertaken to implement the National Action Plan on Human Trafficking and People Smuggling during the reporting period
Fee Free Basic Education Policy	Subsidizes school fees for grades one through nine to increase access to education. (18-20,27) This policy was active during the reporting period. (28)

Policy	Description
National Education Action Plan	Establishes a timeline within the National Development Strategy 2016–2035 to provide free primary and secondary education to boys and girls by 2020. (29) Research was unable to determine whether activities were undertaken to implement the National Education Action Plan during the reporting period.
United Nations Pacific Strategy (2018–2022)	A multinational strategic framework, comprising 14 South Pacific nations, created to address, develop, and implement strategic economic development priorities in the South Pacific, including eliminating child labor and the worst forms of child labor. (30) Research was unable to determine whether activities were undertaken to implement the United Nations Pacific Strategy during the reporting period.

‡ The government had other policies that may have addressed child labor issues or had an impact on child labor. (30)

The Government of the Solomon Islands did not respond to requests for information regarding its policies to eliminate child labor. (5) Child labor prevention and elimination strategies do not appear to be integrated into the Fee Free Basic Education Policy. (27) Research did not find evidence that the National Action Plan on Human Trafficking and People Smuggling contains policies to eliminate the worst forms of child labor.

VI. SOCIAL PROGRAMS TO ADDRESS CHILD LABOR

Research found no evidence that the government funded or participated in social programs that include the goal of preventing or eliminating child labor.
